BRIDGING THE GAP BETWEEN PEOPLE, PROCESS AND TECHNOLOGY

Business initiatives are becoming more customer orientated, so it's essential they add value for your customers while building you a successful and profitable business.

The need for a robust Enterprise Resource Planning [ERP] or Warehouse Management System [WMS] with Mobility has become paramount in realising productivity and efficiency gains in today's competitive business environment.

To maximise the return on investment (ROI) of modular, scalable and mobile IT infrastructure, a business process and people centric approach is required in bridging the gap between people, process and technology.

ASPluris™ addresses these very complex issues and will improve your organisation's bottom line.

"Since we have been using the ASPluris™ Solution with rugged mobile devices, they have proven to be a great success. As the business grew, efficiency was a key factor, particularly in the warehouse picking times. The ASPluris solution has helped increase efficiency, picking times and order tracking have dramatically improved and errors have been eliminated. Overall we are very pleased with ASPluris and would recommend it to any similar business."
